The book begins with a description of Praslin, the second largest island in the Seychelles. Praslin is home to the Vallée de Mai, a UNESCO World Heritage Site that is home to the rare coco de mer palm tree. Doe describes the Vallée de Mai as a "lost world" and a "place of wonder."

From Praslin, Doe travels to La Digue, the fourth largest island in the Seychelles. La Digue is known for its beautiful beaches, its granite boulders, and its slow-paced lifestyle. Doe describes La Digue as a "paradise" and a "place where time stands still."

"Lost in Seychelles Vol Praslin Island And La Digue Island" is a beautifully written and evocative book that captures the essence of these two pristine islands. Doe's descriptions of the landscape, the people, and the culture are sure to transport readers to another world.

Whether you are planning a trip to the Seychelles or simply want to escape to a tropical paradise, "Lost in Seychelles Vol Praslin Island And La Digue Island" is the perfect book for you.
