But one day, Top meets a new boy named Max. Max is just as good as Top at everything. In fact, Max might even be better than Top at some things.

Top is not used to not being the best. He starts to feel jealous of Max. He tries to beat Max at everything, but he can't. Max is always just a little bit better.

Top is starting to get discouraged. He doesn't know how to be the best anymore. But then, Max teaches Top something important. Max tells Top that it's not always important to be the best. It's more important to be kind and to have fun.

Top starts to understand what Max means. He starts to be more kind to others. He starts to have more fun. And he starts to realize that it's okay not to be the best at everything.
