The plays in With The Band are written by some of the most exciting playwrights working today, including Tony Award winners Steven Levenson (Dear Evan Hansen) and Lynn Nottage (Sweat), as well as Pulitzer Prize finalist Sarah Ruhl (The Clean House). These playwrights have a deep understanding of music and its power, and they use their talents to create plays that are both entertaining and thought-provoking.

The plays in With The Band are as diverse as the music they celebrate. There are comedies about the ups and downs of being in a band, dramas about the sacrifices musicians make for their art, and even a tragedy about the death of a rock star. But no matter what the subject matter, these plays all share a common theme: the power of music to change our lives.

If you love music, then you will love With The Band. These plays are a celebration of the power of music, and they will leave you feeling inspired, entertained, and ready to rock!
